India- one of the world's largest economy with a high growth rate & the ever increasing purchasing population has the potential of being the most important export destination for the LAC countries. India's trade with Latin America increased to 17.2 billion dollars in 2009 from 2.1 billion in 2000. This has the potential to go up to 30 billion dollars by 2012. The Chinese trade with Latin America was 140 billion dollars in 2008. It declined to 116 billion in 2010. Chinese exports were 53 billion and imports were 63 billion.

Latin America is a market of 4 trillion dollars of GDP, population of 550 million and per capita income of 7300 US Dollars. The stability of the economies of individual countries has been reinforced by the regional integration through Mercosur, SICA, the Andean Community & Caricom in Caribbean. Through these groups, barriers have been removed for free movement of goods, services, capital and people and there is growing intraregional trade and investment.

IIA Noida has been very active in promoting & developing trade relations between India & Latin American and Caribbean countries & has already signed MOUs with Brazil India Chamber of Commerce, Sao Paulo and Argentina Chamber of Commerce & Industry, Buenos Aires. Keeping in view to increase bilateral trade the above seminar was organized in Noida on 17th December 2010.
